“ My beautiful mother in law was the kindest and most caring person I ever had the pleasure to meet. One moment that stands out was when we were staying in her home at Halloween on our way to Naples. I thought Leanne and I could make a gingerbread house and refused any help from anyone. After about eight hours or so and the walls kept collapsing and jelly beans all over the floor and glanced over at Leanne and asked her to get help from grandma, with a beaming smile and twinkle in her eyes she gracefully came to the rescue. Every time in her home I experienced a very warm calming feeling and just wish we could have spent more time with her. But those many small memories will stay with me forever. I can see her now walking hand in hand with her husband through the glorious gardens of heaven. I will miss you.
